For 2026, the S trim receives a massive tech boost with the standard inclusion of the 13.1-inch Pivi Pro curved glass touchscreen, a high-definition command centre that makes navigating off-road trails or city streets equally effortless. Driven by the potent 395 hp mild-hybrid inline-six, the P400 S isn't just a workhorse—it's surprisingly quick, clocking a 5.8-second sprint to 100 km/h. While the exterior remains timelessly boxy with standard 19-inch gloss black wheels, the interior is built for the reality of Canadian life, featuring heated electric seats and durable rubber cabin flooring that welcomes muddy boots and snow-covered gear. With a class-leading 8,201 lb towing capacity and standard Electronic Air Suspension, the Defender 110 P400 S is as comfortable towing a horse trailer as it is finding a remote campsite in the Yukon.
